Girls Under 13s

Girls U 13's Football

Congratulations to the girls U 13's football team for winning their first match of the year What a great start to the season for our very own lionesses!

Black History Month

This week we launched Black History Month in assembly. I would like to thank Nifemi, Tia and Hella for their confident delivery and passionate presentations celebrating this event.

During the month of October, we will be celebrating the achievements of black musicians, athletes, politicians and inventors/influential people to foster a deeper understanding and appreciation of black history. I look forward to sharing the students' work in The Seagull at the end of the month.

Dates for your diary:

Mrs Garland Assistant Office Manager

Forgotten items

Can parents/carers please be reminded that we are not able to accept forgotten items at the school reception unless specifically requested by a member of staff.

Thank you for your co-operation.

Mrs Stone Office Manager

Yoga Class with Miss England

Wednesday 7.45am-8.15am in DA1 All students welcome. Yoga helps to support your well-being and decrease stress; start your day the right way.

Breakfast snacks available afterwards.

Miss England Head of Dance

Student Voice Voting Days!

On Wednesday and Thursday this week, students from across all year groups came to our makeshift polling station in Boothroyd Hall to cast their votes for Student Voice candidates.

With help from the Business BTEC students, students entered the hall and filled in a ballot paper, casting their vote for the students they deemed suitable for the roles.

Votes are yet to be counted and our newly appointed Student Voice teams will be announced in the coming weeks.
Keep your eyes peeled!

Miss Hallas Student Aspirations Coordinator

Under 13s Girls Football

On Thursday 28th September, the Under 13s girls (pictured on the front page) took on Oaks Park in their first football game of the year. This was a great performance from all girls that took part.

There were debut performances from the following Year 7s Hollie, Jaydee, Veronica, Nevah, and Atene. All the girls worked incredibly hard and won 5-0. Manager player of the match went to Kadie Year 8 for a fantastic defensive performance. Player of the match went to Charlotte Year 8 for scoring four out of the five goals. The girls will move through to the next round which will be played in November.

Well done girls.

Miss Pridie Second in PE

Year 10 Football Fixture

The Year 10 football team had a tough opening game of the season in the Essex Cup vs Coopers' Coborn on Thursday afternoon. A valid effort was committed throughout with some good passages of play and a consolation goal from Ehizojie on the stroke of full time.

These were positives we will take for the remainder of the campaign. Unfortunately, the scoreline of 7-1 represented a bridge too far up against an opponent who competes in sports on a national level. Man of the match was Logan.

Helping children and young people with MANAGING DEVICE STRESS AND ANXIETY

WHAT ARE THE RISKS? The internet and advances in the capability of digital devices have afforded us arguebly the fastest period of technological and social evolution in living memory: creating opportunities for us to interact with people anywhere in the world, 24 hours a day. It's also, however, blurred safety boundaries and added new stresses for young people, who are often less aware of the hidden hazards. With almost half of 10–15-year-olds experiencing bullying online and algorithms pushing content in front of our children every day. It's important to know how to address some of these challenges.

LIVING ONLINE

The internet is awash with sophisticated algorithms that isom from our online Behaviour and try to predict our wants and needs. That's very helpful in some respects, but it can make the online world difficult for children and young people to negotiate. Content can be brought to them at any time — it may not always be appropriate, and children may not have the ability or the support to deal with it.

PUSHY NOTIFICATIONS (7)

Content is also directed at us through notifications from our apps: letting us know we have a new message or social post to read, for example, While that's useful in some circumstances, it conditions us to keep going back quiline (and is designed to do so) and can be a hear-constant demand on your child's attention. As such alerts become more common, are we experiencing an "attack of the pings"?

BLURRED BOUNDARIES

There are now so many ways we can communicate ordine in real time (like instant messaging apps) or with a delay (such as on social media) that it's possible to be constantly in conversation. Young people often prefer quickfire exchanges of text—but using fewer words can cause distressing miscommunications through the lack of non-verbal cure like facial expressions or tone of valice.

DIGITAL DEPENDENCY

As devices allow access to immediate external help in challenging situations, it's a concern that children may not be developing the inner confidence to wark things out for themselves. Likewise, group membership is hugely important to young peopleboth in digital and 'real' [ife — and being excluded from online conversations can cause damaging feelings of loneliness and isolation.

DISGUISED DISTRESS

hildren often haven't yet developed to emotional resources to deal with tany of the setbacks of everyday, e, so identifying when it's pecifically something anilne that's period them can be tricky. A certain vel of stress is a normal response a problem; it opurs us into action keep ourselves ode, if the stress excessive, though, it can feel exceptions and pecifically land.

ANTI-SOCIAL SOCIALS

social media can bring people tagether in hugely poetly ways. Sadly, if does also have a darker side, including flame war arguments which can eccalate quickly and have hurtful consequences. With so many people looking on, 'group shaming' situations are also common — while there are continual opportunities for young people to compare themselves negatively with other social media users.

Advice for Parents & Carers

LEARN THE BASICS

It's impossible to keep up with every online change or every new app. The best option is to make yourself aware at the fundamentals of how the internet operates, so you can help your child to grasp how — and why — containt reaches them. Devices and the digital world can be contuining, so learning to understand them better will give you the containers to talk to your child about them.

TALK IT OUT

If a child mentions a comment that's been directed at them in a text chat or on social media, it may sound minor but can actually have a much bigger effect than we realise. In our evolved brains, any perceived threat can get intermalised while our body reacts as if we were in physical danger – raising stress levels. It's always worth encouraging your child to get any concerns out in the open.

PUSH DISTRACTIONS AWAY

Notifications to our phones and tablets can be helpful, but they sometimes make one wonder who's really in charge: the person or the device? Checking our phone as soon as it goes off is an easy habit to fall into -essecially far young people. Try switching off non-essential alerts on your devices and encourage your child to do the same; you should both feel less triggered and more in control.

LOOK FOR THE SIGNS

This is tricky – and may depend on the child's age – but any sudden change in behaviour is worth jooking out for if your child seems to be checking their phone or tablet more, doesn't want to be parted from them, or appears unusually secretive, anxious or withdrawn, if could be a sign that comething is amiss in relation to their device – and, possibly, that they're in need of extra support.

KEEP CHECKING IN

Healthy emotional regulation balances three systems: threet, drive and grounding. Down the various rabbit hales of the internet, however, that balance can easily slip sway – so it's important to help your child manage their emotions when they're enline. Check in with them regularly when they're on their device, and remember that 'distraction' and 'relocation' aren't always the cornection.

BE KIND: UNWIND

Be kind to yourselves as parents and carers. Remember that we're all in the same bact, trying to safely guide our children through this complex, fact—moving alights emphanment. Setting into the hoalt of having natural, relixed conversations with your child about their online life (and yours) can level the playing field and make it for easier for them to open up to you about any concerns.
